I have ascertained that he died on January 2nd, 1888; convulsions preceded his death. The left eye continued unaffected. The case is of interest also as an example, very rare, of the lesions being monocular. I have, I believe, seen one other case which was not traced to the final termination. Mr. Eales related a monocular case before the Society. Case 3. --Mr. Fredk. B--, aet. 56 (Book 3, p. 586). January 8th, 1884. --Sight failing a few weeks. V. E. -f, L. f. White dots at both maculae; well-marked neuro-retinitis. Urine, sp. gr. 1010, albumen. Mr. Hawthorne, his medical attendant, kindly informs me that he died on June 27th, 1884. Case 4. --Major M--, set. 59. Had been in the army thirty-nine years. May 7th, 1883. --Sight failing two months. R. V. Yq, L. V. -q. Numerous small...
